

NRHPD Thankful for Community Support

The NRH Police Department would like to thank our community for the incredible outpouring of love and support they have experienced following the loss of five Dallas officers last month.

"We have been overwhelmed with your notes, cards, letters, emails, and personal visits to express your appreciation for the work our employees do," said Police Chief Jimmy Perdue. "Each and every gesture makes us all so proud of the relationship we have with the members of the NRH community and sustains us through these dark times."

"Law enforcement is going through a difficult and challenging time, but I remain confident in the dedication and commitment of the members of our Department to the ideals that we share as a community," Chief Perdue added. "We will always remain steadfast to our core principles of service, honor and integrity in everything we do. Thank you NRH for supporting your Police Department."
