City of North Richland Hills Youth Advisory Committee

WHAT IS YOUTH ADVISORY COMMITTEE?

The Youth Advisory Committee (YAC) is an advisory board to the City Council of North Richland Hills. As an advisory board, YAC will empower youth by giving them an opportunity to use their voice to express concerns and issues while allowing them to make changes that affect the youth in our community.

HOW MUCH TIME IS NEEDED TO SERVE ON YAC?

YAC meets the second Wednesday of every month for no more than two hours a meeting. Depending on projects that the Youth Advisory Committee has planned there may be additional meetings scheduled as needed each month. To be an Officer will require more time each month. Event Committee member will require less time and will be active in the planning as well as the implementation of special events.

WOULD I MAKE A GOOD MEMBER?

Applicants must be North Richland Hills residents. You must be able to attend the monthly meetings. If you want to be heard and help the youth of North Richland Hills, you would be a good member! YAC represents the entire youth community. We need a variety of youth that want to share their ideas and opinions to make a difference in the community.

HOW WILL THE MEMBERS BE SELECTED?

Return your application to the City of North Richland Hills when completed. The application will be reviewed by YAC. If selected, the Mayor and City Council will appoint you to YAC.
